

FULLRLIVING'S
CONTRIBUTORS'
GUIDE

Fullriving is a content based website and welcome contributors' to submit articles for approval to be published on our site. We want your submission process to be successful and to that end, we've created this guide to aid your submission process. If you are reading this guide, it means you've taken the time to read our contributor page because this page is not in our menu and the only link to it is via our contributors page.

Since you've taken the time to thoroughly review that page, this document is a reference to use before finalizing your submission to us. If you have questions not answered from the contribution page and this guide, please contact us. Again, we want your experience to be fruitful.

Fullriving's is a website pertaining to self-development. We accept articles based on these major categories:

- Envo
- Kaizen
- Life Hacks
- Paper
- Newz
- Vitality
- Toolz

Please visit our site for further explanation of the above categories and to see if we added any additional categories.

TIPS

WE DO NOT RECOMMEND LONG PARAGRAPHS

Break up your content into brief paragraphs. Each paragraph should be less than 300 words.

HEADINGS

Although we prefer plain text when submitting your article, write as if there is a main heading, a subheading at the start of each paragraph.

WRITING STYLE

1. Start with a good title that has emotional and power words
2. Your articles should inspire. Write as if you're sharing a story, as if you relate to your reader. A sympathetic approach can help to connect with your readers.
3. Keep your writing simple
4. Put yourself in your reader's shoes
5. Reject complexity, the simpler the better
6. Write in the first person

BEFORE SUBMITTING YOUR ARTICLE, ANSWER THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS:

1. Is my article helpful?
2. Who will it help?
3. How will it help?
4. If I were visiting the site you are submitting the article would you enjoy this article?
